Sun Signaling.

The London Daily News states that they have to thank the heliograph again for an important message received from Gen. Stewart, and announcing the result of an attack on the British troops, in which the enemy seems to have suffered severely. The message is dated Camp Ghuzzi, April, 22d, and was received at the India office on the following day. It is very probable that the news could not have been brought so speedily by electric telegraph. The heliograph does not require the route to be kept open. The line of communication cannot be cut, for the simple reason that the signalling takes place over the heads of the enemy, and the stations required are but few and far between. A ten inch mirror—and this is the diameter of the ordinary field heliograph—is capable of reflecting the sun's rays in the form of a bright spot or flare to a distance of fifty miles, the signal at this interval being recognizable without the aid of a glass. That is to say, two trained sappers, each provided with a mirror, can readily speak to one another, supposing that the sun is shining with an interval of fifty miles between them, providing their stations are sufficiently high, and no rising ground intervenes to stop the rays. The adjustment of the military heliograph is a very simple matter. An army leaves its base where a heliograph station is located, and, after traveling some miles, desires to communicate with the stay at homes. A hill in the locality is chosen, and a sapper ascends with his heliograph, which is simply a stand bearing a mirror swung like the ordinary toilet looking-glass, except that besides swinging horizontally, it is also pivoted so as to move vertically as well. Behind the mirror, in the very center, a little of the quicksilver has been removed, so that the sapper can go behind his instrument and look through a tiny hole in it toward the station he desires to signal. Having sighted the station by adjusting the mirror, he next proceeds to set up in front of the heliograph a rod, and upon this rod is a movable stud. This stud is manipulated like the foresight of a rifle, and the sapper again, standing behind his instrument, directs the adjustment of this until the hole in the mirror, the stud and the distant station are in line. The heliograph is then ready to work, and in order to flash signals so that they may be seen at a distance, the sapper has only to take care that his mirror reflects the sunshine on the stud just in front of him.

The first use of this instrument was in the Zulu war, when a rudely constructed instrument, improvised by a lieutenant of engineers, enable Lord Chelmsford to keep up constant communication with the beleagered forces of Col. Peerson at Ekowe.

WHAT STOPPED HIM.—Some weeks since, while a party of Detroit surveyers were running a railroad line in Indiana, the survey carried them across a cemetery. In the course of the survey a small stake was driven into a grave, and before it was removed and carried ahead, a lathy, long-legged Hoosier overhauled the men, peeled of his coat, and danced around as he yelled out, "Show me the man who dared drive that stake in that grave!"

"We are going to remove it," quietly replied one of the party.

"I don't care if you are, show me the man!"

"Well, I'm the man, and what are you going to do about it?" said the big man of the lot as he stepped out.

"Didn't you know that was my wife's grave?" asked the Hoosier with a considerable fall off to his voice.

"No, sir."

"Well it is sir—my first wife's grave."

"And what of that?"

"What of that! Why—why, sir, if I hadn't married a second one about a month ago and kinder forgot my grief, I'd take that stake and pin you to the fence with it! It's lucky for you fellers—mighty lucky that I don't feel half as bad as I did!"—Detroit Free Press.

EXPULSION OF FLIES.—A young lady writes: "For three years I have lived in a town, and during that time my sitting-room has been free from flies, three or four only walking about the breakfast table, while all my neighbor's rooms are crowded. I often congratulated myself on my escape, but never knew the reason of it until a few days ago. I then had occasion to move my goods to another house, while I remained on for a few days longer, Among other things moved were two boxes of geraniums and calcareous, which stood in my windows, being always open to full extent, top and bottom. The boxes were not gone half an hour before my room was as full of flies as those around me. This to me, is a new discovery, and perhaps it may serve to encourage others in that which is always a source of pleasure, namely window gardening. Mignonette planted in long, shallow boxes, placed on the window-sill, will be found excellent for this purpose."

A FISH THAT SWALLOWS BIGGER ONES.—The Smithsonian Institution has received a very curious specimen of the fish kind, recently found on the fishing banks of Gloucester, Mass., by A. Howard Clarke. It rejoices in the name of Chiasmodus niger, and its peculiar and distinguishing feature is the fact that its rapacity leads it to swallow fishes which are twice as large and weigh four times as much as itself. It is enabled to do this from the fact that its mouth is very deeply cleft, its teeth bent, and that its stomach has an elasticity resembling india-rubber. When it commences to swallow its dinner its jaws move alternately, and seem to climb over the fish, which is gulped down and doubled up in this curious creature's inside. As the process of this digestion and decomposition takes place, and gases are originated, the distended stomach becomes tighter than the other part of the body, and the latter consequently turns under. In this condition the fish is utterly unable to help itself, and may be easily caught. This specimen, secured by the Smithsonian, is only the third known. The first was found a number of years ago floating in the sea, off the Island of Madeira, and the second was discovered in the Dominican Sea. Careful drawings have been made of this particular specimen, which is ten inches in length. It has in its stomach a kind of codfish eighteen inches long. It is only by contrasting the long and slender body of the fish in its normal state with its distended form after gorging, that a proper idea of the feat it so successfully attempts can be gained.

THE YOUNG MAN WHO WENT WEST.—I was falling into a doze when a plain, farmer-looking man across the aisle poked me with his cane and said, "Been up in the West?" I told him that I had, almost to the land of Nod. But that didn't make any Nods to him, for he continued: "Great country, that West of ours. 'Tain't half appreciated yet. Greeley understood it, though. He knew what it could do for a young man. Now we had a young fellow up where I belong—Huron county, smarter'n a whip. Could do anything. But, bless ye, he hadn't no chance round there. Everything occupied except himself. Every place full. Folks said if he would only go West with all his talent, he would soon be a big man. He wouldn't listen to it for a long time—kept struggling on, but finally he went. This was two years ago. And, now, sir (rising up in his seat with eagerness and animation, while I, catching something of his enthusiasm, half rose myself), and now this young man, who had no chance in the world in Ohio, where do you suppose he is?" I said I didn't know. (Resuming his seat—"Damifido either. We havn't heard a word from him since he left."

HOW A LITTLE BOY FACED DEATH.—A ten-year-old, whose legs were recently cut off by a train of cars in this city, was too plucky to make any fuss over the incident. When the little fellow was taken home his legs hung limp, but he did not complain. But the tender look he gave to those who stood by his side told plainly that he was suffering great agony. After the doctor had dressed his wounds he called his parents, sisters and brothers to his bedside, kissed one and all farewell, and left a tear upon their cheeks. A second time he called his mother to his side, placed his little arms about her neck and said: "Mother I am going to die. Please forgive me for not minding you." With this the little fellow fell back, and as the mother said, "Yes, my angel," and took another look at his face, she found him dead, and beyond all pain and suffering.—Dubuque Times.

Edwin Forrest was a fearfully stingy and close man. At one Boston engagement his share of the receipts was $4,000. Though the management had lost money on it, he exacted the last penny. The money was handed over to him, a few odd dollars being in twenty-five cent pieces, and he left the box office. Half an hour afterwards he returned to the office with one of these rolls, and taking a piece of silver from it, said to the treasurer in his own peculiarly pompous manner:

"This quarter, sir, which you gave me is not good."

"What's the matter with it?" asked the treasurer, curtly.

"It has worn smooth, sir, and the people at the bank refuse to take it."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 9th, 1880.

If the Democracy at any time deceived itself with the idea that by its loud shouts for Hancock it could stampede the Republican forces, it will now have to put them aside and settle down to the realization of the fact, distasteful as it may be, that the Republicans are not to be stampeded; that the party is more united than for years and that at no time in its history have its great leaders been so happily pleased as with the nomination of Garfield and Arthur. This state of feeling now existing in the Republican party, though nothing to be surprised at, was not seen in the campaign of 1876, and is now a stranger to the Democratic party.

But one cause can be assigned for this unusual amount of confidence and enthusiasm among Republicans everywhere. It is the awakening of the people to the fact that Republican rule has given to this land the greatest prosperity ever known. Business men care nothing for sectional politics; nothing for personal differences; they know that a change for change's sake only is not safe in business, and they know the rule applies with equal force to politics. Their interests are protected as are those of their customers, and they want no change simply because the Democratic party has put on its old mask of loyalty and asks for power; for a grip upon the National throat; asks leave of the Nation to introduce the new "Mississippi plan" of counting out into New York, Indiana and Connecticut; leave to experiment with the currency, the tariff and to abolish the National banks; asks the people to choose adversity when prosperity is with them. No wonder the Hancock enthusiasm is dwindling away; no wonder the notes of Republican preparation are heard on every hand. The Republican party appeals to the patriotism of every man; to his love of liberty, justice and law. The Republican party has identified itself with the National life in a manner at once grateful to our industries, and to the preservation of the liberties and form of government we all love so well. These considerations I have no doubt will force themselves upon the mind of every intelligent voter, and a careful study of the subject will result in more votes for Garfield and Arthur.

The Conference in New York last week will awaken in every Republican heart now a new confidence in the harmony of the party. Our leaders met there to coolly and calmly talk over the situation. They did not hide the weak points. Where doubts exist they admitted them and took steps for their correction. They know that enthusiasm, though a powerful auxiliary, cannot elect Garfield; and they made preparations for a close canvass in every doubtful State. It will take an effort. It will be no holiday campaign, but it will be won.

Within the past few days a large number of persons of both sexes, have received appointments in the Census Office, and many more are yet to be appointed. Although Government clerks are generally better paid than others, few of the more recent appointed receive more than $600 per annum. The pressure for place is tremendous and competent clerks can be had for $400 per year.

MAXWELL.

Sixty-seven Russian immigrants, some survivors of a party of 330 which left Russia in 1877 for Brazil, have arrived at New York, sick and destitute. They found the South American climate unsuited to them, and after losing all their funds, decided to leave the country, where they had experienced such hardships.

A writer in the Redding Independent gives the following Indian names for rivers: For the Sacramento, Wy-Mim or North river; for Pit river, Pool Mim or East river; for the McCloud river, Winnimmim, or Middle river.

Herbert Spencer, the great writer, begins next year a tour of the world, going from England to the United States first.

The First National Bank of Los Angeles has been authorized to commence business with a capital of $100,000.

A call for a National Republican Club Convention has been issued, to meet at Indianapolis, September 15th.

ASSEMBLYMAN.

For the next Legislature we notice that both the great political parties of this State are nominating their best men, for the Assembly, particularly. This is as it should be always, for no one knowth into whose hands the legislature will fall, and in view of this fact each party should put up its best men, that the legislation for our State should meet the requirements of the people. The people of Mono and Inyo should study well this matter before the nominating Conventions meet, and try to have good men nominated for the Assembly. In the Republican ranks we know of no one able to poll a larger vote, or who will be more acceptable to the people—irrespective of party—as our present Assemblyman, Jo. Wasson. Every voter in Mono and Inyo counties know Jo. Wasson, and they all are aware that he did good work in the last Legislature in the interests of the mining industries of California, and we believe the interests of these two counties, and, we may say, the mining interests of the State, demand his return to the Assembly next Winter. Mr. Wasson has large mining interests in both counties, and in conferring the nomination on him the Republicans of Inyo county will, in a very great degree, be giving it to one of her own people, for Jo. Wasson can truly be called a Mono-Inyo man. Again, it is better that a county should retain a good man in a legislative position when they are satisfied that they have such a man to "tie to." Besides, a county is more sure of obtaining legislation in her interest when her member of the Legislature, either in the Senate or Assembly, is an old stager, and used to the ins and outs, and whys and wherefores of a legislative body. Mr. Wasson knows what the mining counties, and particularly our own, want, and he is a hard worker and never lets up until he accomplishes what he undertakes. As it has been conceded that the Republicans of Inyo should have the choice of Assemblyman this year, we say to them give us Jo. Wasson and we will elect him.

BODIE'S EXODUS.

Our sister town, Bodie, has been, and is being, favored with an exodus of hundreds of the undesirable portion of its population—mostly of the rougher class that mining towns are usually cursed with. That this exodus will be a benefit to the town is not to be questioned. There have been too many people there for the amount of work doing in its mines—for the number of miners employed; it has had too many saloons and gambling houses—and many of these of the lowest stamp to lead the unwary to ruin. Twenty well and respectably conducted saloons would have been all that was required to make the average Bodieite happy and content, instead of having in the neighborhood of one hundred of all kinds and descriptions. In fact, business of every branch has been overdone, and it is well that the citizens of the most promising mining camp in the country are alive to this fact. The business doing in the Bodie mines is sufficient to support a population of about four thousand, instead of from five to eight thousand, which has been its population during the past year or eighteen months. Every miner has worked to support, on an average, six persons besides himself, and of the six, three have been an incubus on the body politic. As the exodus has so far been productive of much good, it is to be hoped it will continue till Bodie is rid of all the undesirable element within its confines. The next pay days, we believe, will find Bodie better off financially than has been her fortune for several months past. The same amount of money—and, perhaps, more—will be paid out, but there will not be so many to share in its distribution; the miner will not be compelled to share his pay with some impecunious, and, in many instances, unworthy, friend, who would lose it at the gaming table, but will be able to spend it among Bodie's business men for the necessaries, conveniences and luxuries of life, making happy homes and adding to the well-being and prosperity of Mono's great metropolis.—Bridgeport Union.

The Santa Clara Journal says: Miss Julia Doty, formerly of Manchester, N. H., has received intimation that thirty factory girls from that place contemplate a visit to California in hopes of bettering their condition.

They will be received with open arms, undoubtedly.

A reward of $500 is offered by the citizens of Ormsby county for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of old Jack Hays, who was lately found dead with a bullet hole through his heart, in Jack's Valley.

The report of the death of Marshal Bazaine is unfounded.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, AUGUST, 21, 1880.

The CHRONICLE Office is on the second floor of "Goodson's Building," east side of Main street, between Standard Avenue and Green street.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

OUR BRANCH JAIL.—Col. Jackson has finished his contract and the Bodie Branch jail is completed. The jail now contains four large cells, and can safely and comfortably accommodate 16 prisoners. A kitchen and dining-room has been built on the north side of the jail, and everything about the institution is convenient and cosy. The jail is surrounded by a high and substantial fence, and at certain hours the prisoners are allowed an airing in the rear yard. Deputy Sheriff Kirgan, who has charge of it, has had the cells newly furnished with bedding, and the prisoners cannot complain of not being well cared for.

WHY NOT?—An enterprising grocery firm in Oakland give exact change in pennies. And why should they not do so? If a customer buys a sack of potatoes for 87 cents, why should he give the storekeeper the extra three cents? It would be better for the people of the entire State if pennies were used in making exact change. It is folly for a person to pay five cents for an article that is worth only two cents If we should take care of the pennies many a one would have the dollars to take care of them.

THE OLD CRY.—Being short of copy our evening cotem. has commenced the old cry of "dirty streets," "sewerage," etc., and predicts unnumbered fatalities. The fact is, Bodie has never been healthier than it is at this writing, and if our streets are as dirty as the News says they are, it seems to be a mighty healthy sort of dirt. To read the News an outside barbarian would jump to the conclusion that the yellow fever was about to carry off the balance of our population that has not been taken off by the fast freight, stages and fruit teams.

RATHER LATE.—The Free Press yesterday stated that the Knights Templar Grand Standard had been awarded to the Bodie Commandery, it having turned out the largest percentage of its members for the Chicago Conclave. This is stale news, as the CHRONICLE stated the fact two weeks ago. On account of it having been awarded to them, the Bodie Knights had charge of the Standard when it was consecrated in San Francisco. The Free Press boys are little behind the times.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT.—Col. A. M. Ellsworth has been appointed Superintendent of the Bechtel mine, vice Captain I. G. Messic, resigned. The Company has been fortunate in securing the services of so competent a man as Col. Ellsworth has proved himself in the management of mining properties in this district.

HOUSE FOR SALE.—Parties wishing to purchase a small house, well built, and near our principal mines, will do well to call at the BODIE CHRONICLE office and secure a bargain. It will be sold cheap for cash, or on the instalment plan. Such a chance to secure a good home is not often presented.

GET ONE.—Have you seen the illuminating watches, which will enable you to tell the time in the darkest night? If not go to L. Hollander's and look at them. They are as handy as a pocket in a shirt, and as they keep good time, they are as good for time purposes as a $150 watch. Price only $10.

WAKE UP!—An alarm of fire was given by the whistles of the hoisting works on the hill at half past eleven o'clock on Wednesday night, but Thursday morning's Free Press had not a word to say about it, and yet it wants us to let it "monopolise" the newspaper business in Bodie. Wake up!

THE SOUTH BODIE.—The annual meeting of the South Bodie Mining Company was held in San Francisco on Monday last and the following Directors elected: W. H. Brown, President; M. P. Minor, Vice President; B. B. Miner and J. K. Goodrich; Henry Deas, Secretary.

THE "JOLLY BROTHERS."—Those fortunate in having been remembered by the "Jolly Brothers" on the giving of their socials will be pleased to learn that another "Jolly" invitation social party will be given on Friday evening, September 10th, at Miners' Union Hall.

FRUIT AND MELONS.—E. F. Gibson, of the Union Fruit Market, received this morning a large lot of water and cantilope melons, besides a large assortment of peaches, plums, Bartlett pears, etc.; also lemons and limes.

CHAMPION DINNER.—Ye hungry mortals that want a good dinner to-morrow (Sunday) should go to the Champion Chop House, where Mr. Walsh will serve up fresh squash pies, made from "fruit" raised on Walsh's Napa ranch.

FLOUR.—Early next week a six-mule team will arrive from Modesto. The wagons are loaded with flour from the Paradise Mills, at Modesto. The product of this mill is of the finest description, and is a favorite brand throughout San Joaquin Valley.

DISAGREED.—The jury in the Sam Chung murder case disagreed and a new trial will be in order. Being a Chinaman he was not so fortunate as he would have been had he been a white man.

REDUCED.—The Postoffice Department has ordered a reduction of mail service between Bodie and Mammoth to three times a week.

Aug. 17.

Thos. Douglass to Fred Smith, 250 feet in Uncle Sam mine, Bodie, $100.

The California Knights.

The Chicago Times gives the California Knights Templar the following notice in its account in the great procession of Knights Templar of that city on Tuesday:

"The Pacific Coast Battalion, led by the Grand Commandery of California, was the observed of all observers. It was a gorgeous pageant. It was managed with fine theatrical effect. Not a man of them appeared till after 9 o'clock, allowing the crowd to sate its gaze upon the minor splendors of other bodies. Then they came on in a compact mass, debouching upon the street from Michigan avenue, and marching in four ranks, close and solid, up to State street, where they wheeled into position at the head of this division. The Grand Commandery was especially resplendent, not in loud colors or meretricious display of mock jewelry, for their uniforms were solidly black, and everything about them was sterling, and denoted men of taste, which they are. Falling cloaks of the finest black silk velvet, heavy with gold and silver lace; broadbrimmed beavers of the finest make, cocked on but one side, like hats of the old miners; glittering jewelry, the unalloyed fruit of the mine and diamond quarry; swords of the finest, with hilts blazing in precious stones, pearl handled maces, pendent from their belts, etc. They are mostly grizzled 'Forty-Niners,' swart, broad-shouldered and strong-limbed, and they bore their immensely-heavy uniforms and accoutrements with that lightness and ease which tradition attributes to their mailed prototypes who went about turning cartwheels and flip-flaps in coats of mail weighing enough to crush an ordinary mortal.

MINING STOCK BOOM.—During the past few days there have been quite lively times in Mining Stock circles. No such continuous degree of activity has been witnessed before in many months. The movement has the appearance of concert of action among the leading manipulators. A little of the old time spirit pervades the market, and perhaps a little of the old time capitol has been placed where it will do the most good for those who control it. The movement here is being supplemented with reports of crosscutting and diamond drilling at the mines. There is a more determined air about these operations than usual, and whatever may be the outcome, it is evident that the manipulators have combined to make a market with a view of harvesting in some of the coin that has accumulated to the credit of those who wish to venture into fortune's field.—S. F. Bulletin, 18th.

THE BODIE WAGON ROAD.—The proposed wagon road between Bodie and a point on the Carson and Colorado railroad at the northern end of Walker Lake is to be begun at once. Forty laborers leave Carson to-day for the Five-mile House, at which point one end of the road will be started immediately. Captain W. A. Hawthorne will act as Superintendent of the road and have charge of its construction.—Carson Times, August 17th.

The extraordinary statement now comes from the Treasury that even gold has become a nuisance in business, and propositions have been submitted from various quarters that certificates be issued in exchange for it, upon the principle that governs the issue of silver certificates.

DISTINGUISHED DEAD.—The beautiful and celebrated actress, Adelaide Neilson, died of heart disease in Paris on Sunday.

Ole Bull, the great violinist, died at Bergin, Norway, on Wednesday.

The First Regiment National Guard of San Francisco will go to Sacramento and encamp during Fair week. The coming State Fair promises to be a very successful one.

It was reported in New York on Thursday that the Long Branch Hotel had been destroyed by fire. If true its loss would be a great blow to this favorite watering place.

There have been heavy frosts in the vicinity of New York, the thermometer dropping to 32 degrees.

COUNTY SEAT ITEMS.

[From the Bridgeport Union].

A DEMOCRATIC DREAM.—One night this week a Democrat, doubtless troubled at a Union General being the standard-bearer of his party, had a dream, and, as he says it is too good to keep, we relate it in his own words; prefacing it by saying that, unlike the pretended interview of Commissioner White by the Free Press reporter, it is true:

"I had a bad dream last night, and it troubled me a good deel. I dreamed that I was a Democrat. That was all right! But I had committed all manner of depredation and been as mean as I could be. Somehow I got in with a lot of roughs from Bodie. We went around Bridgeport to escape Taylor and Massey, whom they cursed till all was blue. The first three houses, being too near the "Mormon Settlement," we silently passed. As we came to Elliott's we had too much Democratic talk, and were asked if we had been "ordered out," and told not to go inside the gate. Obenchain's being a little off the road, we were too lazy to visit; we gave Day's house the go-by, as we intended, and did raid his and Obenchain's turnip patches. In that crowd I was Dr. Tanner; I was too disgusted to eat. I told them that Jack Severe was the only Democrat between Bridgeport and Coleville, and they must pass themselves off as Republicans. At Rickey's and Mack's the Republican dodge did not work; niether did it at Warm Springs. But, damn 'em, when I bid them "good-by," at the junction of the Sonora road, they ordered me to "hands up!" I fought like a tiger, and falling out of bed, awoke, and was glad to know that I would not have to apologize for being caught in such company."

Upon conclusion, he remarked: "I almost have a mind to be a 'damn Black Republican.'" But he will not.

DON'T LIKE IT.—The Free Press advises us to mind our own business and not meddle with their advertising patronage and reading matter; and all this because we last week said that the Bodie Land Office had given to the Free Press, the Receiver's paper, five timber advertisements, the land of which is located within three miles of Bridgeport; and that there has been too much of a hogging game in that office. That constitutes our meddling with its advertising patronage. The reading matter meddling was the publication of the letter of Bank Commissioner White, that the interview, published as its reporter's, was a "lie;" and that the interview never occurred. Its publication was a disgrace to journalism, an insult to its readers, and a foolish and miserable attempt to bulldose the Workingmen's Party of Bodie. As regards this particular advertising we shall ask for an "investigation," and endeavor to disprove the boast that we will never hear from a complaint against the Bodie Land Office. We doubt if it will be allowed to override the law to bolster the Receiver's paper.

FINE TEAMS.—The finest livery teams that weekly, if not daily, visit the County Seat from Bodie, are those from Kingsleys stables, he having some of the finest stock in the State, and as he keeps his horses in the finest possible condition, when on the road they need no whip nor spur to urge them onward. Kingsley's stables are the best in Bodie, and our Bridgeport and Antelope friends should put up with him.

GRAND JURY.—On Monday last a Special Grand Jury was empanneled as follows: N. B. Hunnewill, Forman; A. Kirkpatrick, H. L. Leavitt, D. O. Waitze, E. H. Langly, Frank Taylor, Michael Clare, C. W. Mills, Fred. Hardy, Almond Huntoon, D. Hays, G. B. Day, W. A. Barnes, T. N. Snyder, G. W. Shelley and David Jeffreys, Clerk. It is in session.

WELL.—Carroll Howell this week bored and tubed a well in the new Court House. It is thirty feet deep, six inches diameter, and has twenty-four feet of water. It will be furnished with a Forrester non-freezing pump, of which D. Hays & Bro., of this town, are Agents. A tank of 2000 gallons capacisy will be placed on the roof.

WILL PROVE UP.—D. W. Slaw, Clark Eggleston and Dr. Lloyd Goodnow will prove up their homestead claims before the Register and Receiver of the Bodie Land Office on the 10th of September.

ATTACHMENTS.—A large number of suits have been commenced in the Superior Court this week, but as returns have not been made we defer publishing them until next week.

SAM CHUNG'S TRIAL.—The trial of Sam Chung, for the murder of P. Encenos, resulted in a disagreement of the jury—6 for conviction and 6 for acquittal.

TRIAL JURY.—On Monday last the jurymen were discharged, and a venire issued for 150, returnable on Tuesday next, the 24th inst.

ICE CREAM.—George Callahan, will give a fine dinner to-morrow (Sunday) at the Can Can Restaurant, with ice cream dessert.

EQUALIZATION.—The Board has been in session since Tuesday last, equalizing assessments.

LEAVITT'S ADDITION.—Lumber is arriving from Carson for the addition to the Leavitt Hotel.

RAISED.—The Assessment Roll, outside the mines, has been raised $95,000. To-day the mines will increase it to $1,000,000

PRISONERS.—There are ten prisoners in the county jail, and three more are en route from Sonora.

DEPUTY.—Joseph Fitzgerald, of Bridgeport, has been appointed Deputy Sheriff.

RECESS.—On Monday last the Superior Court adjourned until next Tuesday.

PERSONAL.—Judge Wiggin left on Monday last for Carson, for recreation.

WILL PRESIDE.—Judge Briggs will open the Superior Court on Tuesday next.

Two London gentlemen will stake £1,000 that Dr. Tanner cannot fast forty days and nights, they being allowed to watch him. Now, here's a go for the doctor to make $5,000 and save a forty days board bill. Will he accept it? Not much.

The President and Actor.

The writer of this has seen Edwin Forrest walking up Pennsylvania avenue arm and arm with President Buchanan, and from the considerate manner of the nation's chief, who appeared to do most of the talking, a stranger would have inevitably taken the tragedian for the President, and the President himself for some eminently-respectable member of the learned profession. Mr. Buchanan was a great patron of the theatre, and Mr. Forrest was a most savage and uncompromising Democrat, which probably accounted for their strong intimacy. During the war Mr. Forest's sympathies were so strongly Southern, and so openly expressed, that his friends considered it little short of marvelous that no notice was taken of his many incautious, not to say foolish, remarks. Certain is it that his feelings sometimes carried him beyond the verge of discretion, notably so in the instance which I am about to relate. In 1863 he was playing at Ford's Theatre, Washington, the same building where President Lincoln was assassinated. The bill for the evening was "Richelieu," and one of the stage boxes was occupied by a group of Cabinet officers and other dignitaries of the Government. The presence of these officers seemed to stir him up frightfully, and when the Cardinal bids Francois "Put up the sword, States may be saved without it," Mr. Forrest read it thus; "Put up the sword, States can be saved without it," giving the auxiliary with that tremendous emphasis of which his voice alone was capable, shaking his finger at the box the while, and glaring upon the occupants with the ferocity of a tiger. The audience could not but see to whom the line was directed, although whether any noticed the slight interpolation of the text is a question. Among the actors who were familiar with the play it was much commented upon.—Portland, (Or.) Bee.

IT MUST BE BAD.—The people of San Francisco have another fight on their hands—the adoption or rejection of a new charter for that city. As the Chronicle is about the only paper favoring its adoption, it is safe to say that it would be better for that city if it is defeated. The Chronicle claims that it will do wonders for San Francisco, and that its salvation depend on its adoption. It said the same things in regard to our New Constitution, and now that we have that bantling of the Chronicle as our organic law, where are we?

Ingersoll, alluding to General Hancock's career as a professional soldier, says: "Of course we expect such men to do the fighting when there is fighting to be done. It's their business. Now, it's different with a volunteer! When a man leaves a plow, and kisses his wife and goes out to be shot at for principle, that is believed to be patriotic, and inspires enthusiasm. Then, too, we don't look at Generals as especially typical of patriotism. We never had to draft for Generals, that I remember. We always had plenty."

A thunderstorm came down upon Warm Springs valley, says the Reno Gazette of 16. The air was full of electricity, and at Royce's station everything was snapping. Mrs. Royce was doing some work about her kitchen, and happening to touch the stove received a violent shock which nearly knocked her down. She called out and her husband came in, but could touch nothing without a heavy shock. He called in the hostler, who picked up a stove-lid, but dropped it as quickly, yelling, "Oh! be jabers, it's full of minerality."

A sensation was created in Los Angeles on the 18th by a report brought in by a gentleman from Spadra, that a volcanic eruption had broken out in the mountains near the Temescal tin mine, about forty miles east of that city, and that mud and lava were being thrown up and running down the side of the mountains. Others report having seen dense clouds of smoke over that locality.

THE CARSON AND COLORADO.—Rails and ties for the Carson and Colorado narrow-gauge road will probably begin to arrive at the Mound House in a couple of weeks, when the laying of the track will be commenced. Once a start is made the road will be pushed out to the eastward very rapidly.—Enterprise.

On Tuesday the business portion of the town of Eureka was destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000. The town was burned about one year ago, and many were in debt on account of that fire, but still there is no suffering that will require aid from the outside to mitigate it.

In a recent speech at Staunton, W. Va., Wade Hampton declared that the Democratic party under Hancock's lead was fighting for the same principles that Lee and Jackson fought for, and for which Southern soldiers died.

The new Atlantic Cable Company has been registered with a Portuguese concession for a cable from England to the Azores, and thence to America. A financial contract has been concluded for laying a light cable by this route.

A doctor says that men catch colds through their ankles; but the Chicago Tribune thinks they wouldn't if they looked after their own ankles as anxiously as they look after a pretty girl's.

Judge Sepulveda of Los Angeles, has decided that the law passed by the last Legislature, forbidding the licensing of Chinese, is unconstitutional and void.

Bodie must rouse herself. St. Louis had five murders during the 48 hours ending on the evening of the 17th.

To take bruises out of furniture, wet the part with warm water; double a piece of brown paper five or six times, soak it in the warm water, and lay it on the place; apply on that a warm, but not hot, flat-iron, till the moisture is evaporated. If the bruise be not gone, repeat the process. After two or three applications, the dent will be raised to the surface. If the bruise be a small one, merely soak it with warm water, and hold a redhot iron near the surface, keeping the surface continuously wet, the bruise will soon disappear.

BODIE CHRONICLE.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, AUGUST, 21, 1880.

Cold Cabbage.—George Abrahams was extravagantly fond of cold cabbage, and, one day, seeing that quite a dishful was left after dinner, asked his wife to save it for his salad at night.

About midnight George came home laboring under a stress of heavy weather. Feeling hungry, and thinking of his favorite cabbage, he asked where it was.

His wife replied: "In the pantry, on the second shelf."

Down he went, found the cabbage, got out the oil, mustard and vinegar, cut up the cabbage, dressed it to the queen's taste, and ate it.

In the morning his wife noticed the plate of cabbage where she had placed it the night before, and, turning to her "dear George," innocently asked him why he did not eat the cabbage.

"I did," he said.

"How did you like it?"

"Oh! not very well; it was tough and stringy."

"But here is the cabbage: where did you find any more?"

"Why, on the second shelf, where you told me."

A quick glance at the shelf by the wife, and then a cry of agony.

"Why, George, you have eaten $20 of lace collars and cuffs that I had put in starch; stringy cabbage, indeed!"

Colorado Courting.—They have some queer girls in Colorado. One of them, who resides in Cache la Poudre valley, has been receiving the attention of a young man for a year, but becoming impatient at his failure to bring matters to a crisis, she resolved to ascertain his intentions. When he next called she took him gently by the ear, lead him to a seat, and said: "Bobby, you've been foolin' round this claim for mighty nigh a year, en' hev never yit shot off yer mouth on the marryin' biz. I've cottoned to yer on the square clean through, and hev stood off every other galoot that has tried to chin in, an' now I want yer to come to business or leave the ranch. Ef yer on the marry an' want a pard that'll stick rite ter yer till yer pass in yer checks, I'm your hairpin; but ef that ain't yer game, draw out and give some other feller a show for his pile. Now sing yer song or skip out." He sang.—Exchange.

A young lady in Pittsburg has met with a serious accident. She is a pupil of the Normal School, and has been studying to be a teacher. She was "frizzing her bangs" or "banging her frizzes," with a hot slate pencil, when the pencil slipped under one of her eyelids and so injured the eyeball that it is feared its sight will be destroyed. The sympathy of "frizzers" the world around will be extended to this unfortunate young lady, who by means of a hot slate pencil has become a martyr to personal adornment.

Some whose judgments are impaired by the endless exhibition of forms and developments of life have fallen into the strange superstition that the world has made himself, and that the sources of this power of production and progress must be looked for in the lowest forms of matter.—Horatio Seymour.

The treasurer, who was a good deal of a wag, handed Mr. Forrest a bright new quarter, took the worn piece, and with the words "I wouldn't sell these two shillings for five dollars," slipped it into his pocket. That night the story of Forrest and the smooth quarter were known all over Boston.

A little fellow turning over the leaves of a scrapbook, came across the well-known picture of some chickens just out of their shell. He examined the picture carefully, and then, with a grave, sagacious look, slowly remarked: "They come out 'cos they were afraid of being boiled."

To get into a railroad car and find in it a half-dozen women dressed in bright scarlet cloth mantles is enough to make one's eyes ache. And the eyes ache often in Canada, for the ladies of that country travel in mantles of the color named.

The census man has found a boy in Troup county, Georgia, who is only twelve years of age, but is married to a large, fine-looking buxom woman, and they are living peacably and happily out on a farm. The boy is a very thrifty young man.

A medical man asks: "Does position affect sleep?" It does, particularly if the man is holding the position of a night watchman. He is liable to be disturbed by the police.—Boston Courier.

M. Tromhalt says that the aurora borealis will in the near future appear much more frequently than has been the case within the last few years.

Senator Bruce, of Mississippi, is reported to be the possessor of two large plantations in his State and has a fortune also of $500,000.

"Counterfeiting," remarks the Danbury News, "has finally got down to where it really concerns us. Bogus ten-cent pieces are afloat."

A tall man having rallied his friend on the shortness of his legs, the friend replied: "My legs reach the ground, what more can yours do?"

That was a good prayer of the old deacon: "Lord, make us willing to run on little errands for thee."

A good conversationalist may make himself heard at a feast, but the small boy takes the cake.

We don't wish to alarm the American people, and we don't want to create a panic in commercial circles, but we would like to say, from a profound conviction of eternal truth and imperative necessity, that "now is the time to make up clubs."—Hawkeye.

Sun Signaling.

The London Daily News states that they have to thank the heliograph again for an important message received from Gen. Stewart, and announcing the result of an attack on the British troops, in which the enemy seems to have suffered severely. The message is dated Camp Ghuzzi, April, 22d, and was received at the India office on the following day. It is very probable that the news could not have been brought so speedily by electric telegraph. The heliograph does not require the route to be kept open. The line of communication cannot be cut, for the simple reason that the signalling takes place over the heads of the enemy, and the stations required are but few and far between. A ten inch mirror—and this is the diameter of the ordinary field heliograph—is capable of reflecting the sun's rays in the form of a bright spot or flare to a distance of fifty miles, the signal at this interval being recognizable without the aid of a glass. That is to say, two trained sappers, each provided with a mirror, can readily speak to one another, supposing that the sun is shining with an interval of fifty miles between them, providing their stations are sufficiently high, and no rising ground intervenes to stop the rays. The adjustment of the military heliograph is a very simple matter. An army leaves its base where a heliograph station is located, and, after traveling some miles, desires to communicate with the stay at homes. A hill in the locality is chosen, and a sapper ascends with his heliograph, which is simply a stand bearing a mirror swung like the ordinary toilet looking-glass, except that besides swinging horizontally, it is also pivoted so as to move vertically as well. Behind the mirror, in the very center, a little of the quicksilver has been removed, so that the sapper can go behind his instrument and look through a tiny hole in it toward the station he desires to signal. Having sighted the station by adjusting the mirror, he next proceeds to set up in front of the heliograph a rod, and upon this rod is a movable stud. This stud is manipulated like the foresight of a rifle, and the sapper again, standing behind his instrument, directs the adjustment of this until the hole in the mirror, the stud and the distant station are in line. The heliograph is then ready to work, and in order to flash signals so that they may be seen at a distance, the sapper has only to take care that his mirror reflects the sunshine on the stud just in front of him.

The first use of this instrument was in the Zulu war, when a rudely constructed instrument, improvised by a lieutenant of engineers, enable Lord Chelmsford to keep up constant communication with the beleagered forces of Col. Peerson at Ekowe.

WHAT STOPPED HIM.—Some weeks since, while a party of Detroit surveyers were running a railroad line in Indiana, the survey carried them across a cemetery. In the course of the survey a small stake was driven into a grave, and before it was removed and carried ahead, a lathy, long-legged Hoosier overhauled the men, peeled of his coat, and danced around as he yelled out, "Show me the man who dared drive that stake in that grave!"

"We are going to remove it," quietly replied one of the party.

"I don't care if you are, show me the man!"

"Well, I'm the man, and what are you going to do about it?" said the big man of the lot as he stepped out.

"Didn't you know that was my wife's grave?" asked the Hoosier with a considerable fall off to his voice.

"No, sir."

"Well it is sir—my first wife's grave."

"And what of that?"

"What of that! Why—why, sir, if I hadn't married a second one about a month ago and kinder forgot my grief, I'd take that stake and pin you to the fence with it! It's lucky for you fellers—mighty lucky that I don't feel half as bad as I did!"—Detroit Free Press.

EXPULSION OF FLIES.—A young lady writes: "For three years I have lived in a town, and during that time my sitting-room has been free from flies, three or four only walking about the breakfast table, while all my neighbor's rooms are crowded. I often congratulated myself on my escape, but never knew the reason of it until a few days ago. I then had occasion to move my goods to another house, while I remained on for a few days longer. Among other things moved were two boxes of geraniums and calcareous, which stood in my windows, being always open to full extent, top and bottom. The boxes were not gone half an hour before my room was as full of flies as those around me. This to me, is a new discovery, and perhaps it may serve to encourage others in that which is always a source of pleasure, namely window gardening. Mignonette planted in long, shallow boxes, placed on the window-sill, will be found excellent for this purpose."

Now it is a Yankee, Samuel Bromley, of Mystic river, in Connecticut, who announces his ability to live for ten hours with his nose and mouth hermetically sealed.—Where is this thing to stop?

Kansas school teacher: "Where does our grain go to?" "Into the hopper." "What hopper?" "Grasshopper," triumphantly shouted a scholar.

A FISH THAT SWALLOWS BIGGER ONES.—The Smithsonian Institution has received a very curious specimen of the fish kind, recently found on the fishing banks of Gloucester, Mass., by A. Howard Clarke. It rejoices in the name of Chiasmodus niger, and its peculiar and distinguishing feature is the fact that its rapacity leads it to swallow fishes which are twice as large and weigh four times as much as itself. It is enabled to do this from the fact that its mouth is very deeply cleft, its teeth bent, and that its stomach has an elasticity resembling india-rubber. When it commences to swallow its dinner its jaws move alternately, and seem to climb over the fish, which is gulped down and doubled up in this curious creature's inside. As the process of this digestion and decomposition takes place, and gases are originated, the distended stomach becomes tighter than the other part of the body, and the latter consequently turns under. In this condition the fish is utterly unable to help itself, and may be easily caught. This specimen, secured by the Smithsonian, is only the third known. The first was found a number of years ago floating in the sea, off the Island of Madeira, and the second was discovered in the Dominican Sea. Careful drawings have been made of this particular specimen, which is ten inches in length. It has in its stomach a kind of codfish eighteen inches long. It is only by contrasting the long and slender body of the fish in its normal state with its distended form after gorging, that a proper idea of the feat it so successfully attempts can be gained.

THE YOUNG MAN WHO WENT WEST.—I was falling into a doze when a plain, farmer-looking man across the aisle poked me with his cane and said, "Been up in the West?" I told him that I had, almost to the land of Nod. But that didn't make any Nods to him, for he continued: "Great country, that West of ours. 'Tain't half appreciated yet. Greeley understood it, though. He knew what it could do for a young man. Now we had a young fellow up where I belong—Huron county, smarter'n a whip. Could do anything. But, bless ye, he hadn't no chance round there. Everything occupied except himself. Every place full. Folks said if he would only go West with all his talent, he would soon be a big man. He wouldn't listen to it for a long time—kept struggling on, but finally he went. This was two years ago. And, now, sir (rising up in his seat with eagerness and animation, while I, catching something of his enthusiasm, half rose myself), and now this young man, who had no chance in the world in Ohio, where do you suppose he is?" I said I didn't know. (Resuming his seat—"Damifido either. We havn't heard a word from him since he left."

HOW A LITTLE BOY FACED DEATH.—A ten-year-old, whose legs were recently cut off by a train of cars in this city, was too plucky to make any fuss over the incident. When the little fellow was taken home his legs hung limp, but he did not complain. But the tender look he gave to those who stood by his side told plainly that he was suffering great agony. After the doctor had dressed his wounds he called his parents, sisters and brothers to his bedside, kissed one and all farewell, and left a tear upon their cheeks. A second time he called his mother to his side, placed his little arms about her neck and said: "Mother I am going to die. Please forgive me for not minding you." With this the little fellow fell back, and as the mother said, "Yes, my angel," and took another look at his face, she found him dead, and beyond all pain and suffering.—Dubuque Times.

Edwin Forrest was a fearfully stingy and close man. At one Boston engagement his share of the receipts was $4,000. Though the management had lost money on it, he exacted the last penny. The money was handed over to him, a few odd dollars being in twenty-five cent pieces, and he left the box office. Half an hour afterwards he returned to the office with one of these rolls, and taking a piece of silver from it, said to the treasurer in his own peculiarly pompous manner:

"This quarter, sir, which you gave me is not good."

"What's the matter with it?" asked the treasurer, curtly.

"It has worn smooth, sir, and the people at the bank refuse to take it."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C. Aug. 9th, 1880.

If the Democracy at any time deceived itself with the idea that by its loud shouts for Hancock it could stampede the Republican forces, it will now have to put them aside and settle down to the realization of the fact, distasteful as it may be, that the Republicans are not to be stampeded; that the party is more united than for years and that at no time in its history have its great leaders been so happily pleased as with the nomination of Garfield and Arthur. This state of feeling now existing in the Republican party, though nothing to be surprised at, was not seen in the campaign of 1876, and is now a stranger to the Democratic party.

But one cause can be assigned for this unusual amount of confidence and enthusiasm among Republicans everywhere. It is the awakening of the people to the fact that Republican rule has given to this land the greatest prosperity ever known. Business men care nothing for sectional politics; nothing for personal differences; they know that a change for change's sake only is not safe in business, and they know the rule applies with equal force to politics. Their interests are protected as are those of their customers, and they want no change simply because the Democratic party has put on its old mask of loyalty and asks for power; for a grip upon the National throat; asks leave of the Nation to introduce the new "Mississippi plan" of counting out into New York, Indiana and Connecticut; leave to experiment with the currency, the tariff and to abolish the National banks; asks the people to choose adversity when prosperity is with them. No wonder the Hancock enthusiasm is dwindling away; no wonder the notes of Republican preparation are heard on every hand. The Republican party appeals to the patriotism of every man; to his love of liberty, justice and law. The Republican party has identified itself with the National life in a manner at once grateful to our industries, and to the preservation of the liberties and form of government we all love so well. These considerations I have no doubt will force themselves upon the mind of every intelligent voter, and a careful study of the subject will result in more votes for Garfield and Arthur.

The Conference in New York last week will awaken in every Republican heart now a new confidence in the harmony of the party. Our leaders met there to coolly and calmly talk over the situation. They did not hide the weak points. Where doubts exist they admitted them and took steps for their correction. They know that enthusiasm, though a powerful auxiliary, cannot elect Garfield, and they made preparations for a close canvass in every doubtful State. It will take an effort. It will be no holiday campaign, but it will be won.

Within the past few days a large number of persons of both sexes have received appointments in the Census Office, and many more are yet to be appointed. Although Government clerks are generally better paid than others, few of the more recent appointed receive more than $600 per annum. The pressure for place is tremendous and competent clerks can be had for $400 per year.

Maxwell.

Sixty-seven Russian immigrants, some survivors of a party of 330 which left Russia in 1877 for Brazil, have arrived at New York, sick and destitute. They found the South American climate unsuited to them, and after losing all their funds, decided to leave the country where they had experienced such hardships.

A writer in the Redding Independent gives the following Indian names for rivers: For the Sacramento, Wy-Mim or North river; for Pit river, Pool Mim or East river; for the McCloud river, Winnimmim, or Middle river.

Herbert Spencer, the great writer, begins next year a tour of the world, going from England to the United States first.

The First National Bank of Los Angeles has been authorized to commence business with a capital of $100,000.

A call for a National Republican Club Convention has been issued, to meet at Indianapolis, September 15th.

ASSEMBLYMAN.

For the next Legislature we notice that both the great political parties of this State are nominating their best men, for the Assembly, particularly. This is as it should be always, for no one knowth into whose hands the legislature will fall, and in view of this fact each party should put up its best men, that the legislation for our State should meet the requirements of the people. The people of Mono and Inyo should study well this matter before the nominating Conventions meet, and try to have good men nominated for the Assembly. In the Republican ranks we know of no one able to poll a larger vote, or who will be more acceptable to the people—irrespective of party—as our present Assemblyman, Jo. Wasson. Every voter in Mono and Inyo counties know Jo. Wasson, and they all are aware that he did good work in the last Legislature in the interests of the mining industries of California, and we believe the interests of these two counties, and, we may say, the mining interests of the State, demand his return to the Assembly next Winter. Mr. Wasson has large mining interests in both counties, and in conferring the nomination on him the Republicans of Inyo county will, in a very great degree, be giving it to one of her own people, for Jo. Wasson can truly be called a Mono-Inyo man. Again, it is better that a county should retain a good man in a legislative position when they are satisfied that they have such a man to "tie to." Besides, a county is more sure of obtaining legislation in her interest when her member of the Legislature, either in the Senate or Assembly, is an old stager, and used to the ins and outs, and whys and wherefores of a legislative body. Mr. Wasson knows what the mining counties, and particularly our own, want, and he is a hard worker and never lets up until he accomplishes what he undertakes. As it has been conceded that the Republicans of Inyo should have the choice of Assemblyman this year, we say to them give us Jo. Wasson and we will elect him.

BODIE'S EXODUS.

Our sister town, Bodie, has been, and is being, favored with an exodus of hundreds of the undesirable portion of its population—mostly of the rougher class that mining towns are usually cursed with. That this exodus will be a benefit to the town is not to be questioned. There have been too many people there for the amount of work doing in its mines—for the number of miners employed; it has had too many saloons and gambling houses—and many of these of the lowest stamp to lead the unwary to ruin. Twenty well and respectably conducted saloons would have been all that was required to make the average Bodieite happy and content, instead of having in the neighborhood of one hundred of all kinds and descriptions. In fact, business of every branch has been overdone, and it is well that the citizens of the most promising mining camp in the country are alive to this fact. The business doing in the Bodie mines is sufficient to support a population of about four thousand, instead of from five to eight thousand, which has been its population during the past year or eighteen months. Every miner has worked to support, on an average, six persons besides himself, and of the six, three have been an incubus on the body politic. As the exodus has so far been productive of much good, it is to be hoped it will continue till Bodie is rid of all the undesirable element within its confines. The next pay days, we believe, will find Bodie better off financially than has been her fortune for several months past. The same amount of money—and, perhaps, more—will be paid out, but there will not be so many to share in its distribution; the miner will not be compelled to share his pay with some impecunious, and, in many instances, unworthy friend, who would lose it at the gaming table, but will be able to spend it among Bodie's business men for the necessaries, conveniences and luxuries of life, making happy homes and adding to the well-being and prosperity of Mono's great metropolis.—Bridgeport Union.

The Santa Clara Journal says: Miss Julia Doty, formerly of Manchester, N. H., has received intimation that thirty factory girls from that place contemplate a visit to California in hopes of bettering their condition.

They will be received with open arms, undoubtedly.

A reward of $500 is offered by the citizens of Ormsby county for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of old Jack Hays, who was lately found dead with a bullet hole through his heart, in Jack's Valley.

The report of the death of Marshal Bazaine is unfounded.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, AUGUST, 21, 1880.

The CHRONICLE Office is on the second floor of "Goodson's Building," east side of Main street, between Standard Avenue and Green street.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

OUR BRANCH JAIL.—Col. Jackson has finished his contract and the Bodie Branch jail is completed. The jail now contains four large cells, and can safely and comfortably accommodate 16 prisoners. A kitchen and dining-room has been built on the north side of the jail, and everything about the institution is convenient and cosy. The jail is surrounded by a high and substantial fence, and at certain hours the prisoners are allowed an airing in the rear yard. Deputy Sheriff Kirgan, who has charge of it, has had the cells newly furnished with bedding, and the prisoners cannot complain of not being well cared for.

WHY NOT?—An enterprising grocery firm in Oakland give exact change in pennies. And why should they not do so? If a customer buys a sack of potatoes for 87 cents, why should he give the storekeeper the extra three cents? It would be better for the people of the entire State if pennies were used in making exact change. It is folly for a person to pay five cents for an article that is worth only two cents If we should take care of the pennies many a one would have the dollars to take care of them.

THE OLD CRY.—Being short of copy our evening cotem. has commenced the old cry of "dirty streets," "sewerage," etc., and predicts unnumbered fatalities. The fact is, Bodie has never been healthier than it is at this writing, and if our streets are as dirty as the News says they are, it seems to be a mighty healthy sort of dirt. To read the News an outside barbarian would jump to the conclusion that the yellow fever was about to carry off the balance of our population that has not been taken off by the fast freight, stages and fruit teams.

RATHER LATE.—The Free Press yesterday stated that the Knights Templar Grand Standard had been awarded to the Bodie Commandery, it having turned out the largest percentage of its members for the Chicago Conclave. This is stale news, as the CHRONICLE stated the fact two weeks ago. On account of it having been awarded to them, the Bodie Knights had charge of the Standard when it was consecrated in San Francisco. The Free Press boys are little behind the times.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT.—Col. A. M. Ellsworth has been appointed Superintendent of the Bechtel mine, vice Captain I. G. Messic, resigned. The Company has been fortunate in securing the services of so competent a man as Col. Ellsworth has proved himself in the management of mining properties in this district.

HOUSE FOR SALE.—Parties wishing to purchase a small house, well built, and near our principal mines, will do well to call at the BODIE CHRONICLE office and secure a bargain. It will be sold cheap for cash, or on the instalment plan. Such a chance to secure a good home is not often presented.

GET ONE.—Have you seen the illuminating watches, which will enable you to tell the time in the darkest night? If not go to L. Hollander's and look at them. They are as handy as a pocket in a shirt, and as they keep good time, they are as good for time purposes as a $150 watch. Price only $10.

WAKE UP!—An alarm of fire was given by the whistles of the hoisting works on the hill at half past eleven o'clock on Wednesday night, but Thursday morning's Free Press had not a word to say about it, and yet it wants us to let it "monopolise" the newspaper business in Bodie. Wake up!

THE SOUTH BODIE.—The annual meeting of the South Bodie Mining Company was held in San Francisco on Monday last and the following Directors elected: W. H. Brown, President; M. P. Minor, Vice President; B. B. Miner and J. K. Goodrich; Henry Deas, Secretary.

THE "JOLLY BROTHERS."—Those fortunate in having been remembered by the "Jolly Brothers" on the giving of their socials will be pleased to learn that another "Jolly" invitation social party will be given on Friday evening, September 10th, at Miners' Union Hall.

FRUIT AND MELONS.—E. F. Gibson, of the Union Fruit Market, received this morning a large lot of water and cantilope melons, besides a large assortment of peaches, plums, Bartlett pears, etc.; also lemons and limes.

CHAMPION DINNER.—Ye hungry mortals that want a good dinner to-morrow (Sunday) should go to the Champion Chop House, where Mr. Walsh will serve up fresh squash pies, made from "fruit" raised on Walsh's Napa ranch.

FLOUR.—Early next week a six-mule team will arrive from Modesto. The wagons are loaded with flour from the Paradise Mills, at Modesto. The product of this mill is of the finest description, and is a favorite brand throughout San Joaquin Valley.

DISAGREED.—The jury in the Sam Chung murder case disagreed and a new trial will be in order. Being a Chinaman he was not so fortunate as he would have been had he been a white man.

REDUCED.—The Postoffice Department has ordered a reduction of mail service between Bodie and Mammoth to three times a week.

Aug. 17.

The California Knights.

The Chicago Times gives the California Knights Templar the following notice in its account in the great procession of Knights Templar of that city on Tuesday:

"The Pacific Coast Battalion, led by the Grand Commandery of California, was the observed of all observers. It was a gorgeous pageant. It was managed with fine theatrical effect. Not a man of them appeared till after 9 o'clock, allowing the crowd to sate its gaze upon the minor splendors of other bodies. Then they came on in a compact mass, debouching upon the street from Michigan avenue, and marching in four ranks, close and solid, up to State street, where they wheeled into position at the head of this division. The Grand Commandery was especially resplendent, not in loud colors or meretricious display of mock jewelry, for their uniforms were solidly black, and everything about them was sterling, and denoted men of taste, which they are. Falling cloaks of the finest black silk velvet, heavy with gold and silver lace; broadbrimmed beavers of the finest make, cocked on but one side, like hats of the old miners; glittering jewelry, the unalloyed fruit of the mine and diamond quarry; swords of the finest, with hilts blazing in precious stones, pearl handled maces. pendent from their belts, etc. They are mostly grizzled 'Forty-Niners,' swart, broad-shouldered and strong-limbed, and they bore their immensely-heavy uniforms and accoutrements with that lightness and ease which tradition attributes to their mailed prototypes who went about turning cartwheels and flip-flaps in coats of mail weighing enough to crush an ordinary mortal.

MINING STOCK BOOM.—During the past few days there have been quite lively times in Mining Stock circles. No such continuous degree of activity has been witnessed before in many months. The movement has the appearance of concert of action among the leading manipulators. A little of the old time spirit pervades the market, and perhaps a little of the old time capitol has been placed where it will do the most good for those who control it. The movement here is being supplemented with reports of crosscutting and diamond drilling at the mines. There is a more determined air about these operations than usual, and whatever may be the outcome, it is evident that the manipulators have combined to make a market with a view of harvesting in some of the coin that has accumulated to the credit of those who wish to venture into fortune's field.—S. F. Bulletin, 18th.

THE BODIE WAGON ROAD.—The proposed wagon road between Bodie and a point on the Carson and Colorado railroad at the northern end of Walker Lake is to be begun at once. Forty laborers leave Carson to-day for the Five-mile House, at which point one end of the road will be started immediately. Captain W. A. Hawthorne will act as Superintendent of the road and have charge of its construction.—Carson Times, August 17th.

The extraordinary statement now comes from the Treasury that even gold has become a nuisance in business, and propositions have been submitted from various quarters that certificates be issued in exchange for it, upon the principle that governs the issue of silver certificates.

DISTINGUISHED DEAD.—The beautiful and celebrated actress, Adelaide Neilson, died of heart disease in Paris on Sunday.

Ole Bull, the great violinist, died at Bergin, Norway, on Wednesday.

The First Regiment National Guard of San Francisco will go to Sacramento and encamp during Fair week. The coming State Fair promises to be a very successful one.

It was reported in New York on Thursday that the Long Branch Hotel had been destroyed by fire. If true its loss would be a great blow to this favorite watering place.

There have been heavy frosts in the vicinity of New York, the thermometer dropping to 32 degrees.

COUNTY SEAT ITEMS.

[From the Bridgeport Union].

A DEMOCRATIC DREAM.—One night this week a Democrat, doubtless troubled at a Union General being the standard-bearer of his party, had a dream, and, as he says it is too good to keep, we relate it in his own words; prefacing it by saying that, unlike the pretended interview of Commissioner White by the Free Press reporter, it is true:

"I had a bad dream last night, and it troubled me a good deal. I dreamed that I was a Democrat. That was all right! But I had committed all manner of depredation and been as mean as I could be. Somehow I got in with a lot of roughs from Bodie. We went around Bridgeport to escape Taylor and Massey, whom they cursed till all was blue. The first three houses, being too near the "Mormon Settlement," we silently passed. As we came to Elliott's we had too much Democratic talk, and were asked if we had been "ordered out," and told not to go inside the gate. Obenchain's being a little off the road, we were too lazy to visit; we gave Day's house the go-by, as we intended, and did raid his and Obenchain's turnip patches. In that crowd I was Dr. Tanner; I was too disgusted to eat. I told them that Jack Severe was the only Democrat between Bridgeport and Coleville, and they must pass themselves off as Republicans. At Rickey's and Mack's the Republican dodge did not work, neither did it at Warm Springs. But, damn 'em, when I bid them "good-by," at the junction of the Sonora road, they ordered me to "hands up!" I fought like a tiger, and falling out of bed, awoke, and was glad to know that I would not have to apologize for being caught in such company."

Upon conclusion, he remarked: "I almost have a mind to be a 'damn Black Republican.'" But he will not.

DON'T LIKE IT.—The Free Press advises us to mind our own business and not meddle with their advertising patronage and reading matter; and all this because we last week said that the Bodie Land Office had given to the Free Press, the Receiver's paper, five timber advertisements, the land of which is located within three miles of Bridgeport; and that there has been too much of a hogging game in that office. That constitutes our meddling with its advertising patronage. The reading matter meddling was the publication of the letter of Bank Commissioner White, that the interview, published as its reporter's, was a "lie;" and that the interview never occurred. Its publication was a disgrace to journalism, an insult to its readers, and a foolish and miserable attempt to bulldose the Workingmen's Party of Bodie. As regards this particular advertising we shall ask for an "investigation," and endeavor to disprove the boast that we will never hear from a complaint against the Bodie Land Office. We doubt if it will be allowed to override the law to bolster the Receiver's paper.

FINE TEAMS.—The finest livery teams that weekly, if not daily, visit the County Seat from Bodie, are those from Kingsleys stables, he having some of the finest stock in the State, and as he keeps his horses in the finest possible condition, when on the road they need no whip nor spur to urge them onward. Kingsley's stables are the best in Bodie, and our Bridgeport and Antelope friends should put up with him.

GRAND JURY.—On Monday last a Special Grand Jury was empanneled as follows: N. B. Hunnewill, Forman; A. Kirkpatrick, H. L. Leavitt, D. O. Waitze, E. H. Langly, Frank Taylor, Michael Clare, C. W. Mills, Fred. Hardy, Almond Huntoon, D. Hays, G. B. Day, W. A. Barnes, T. N. Snyder, G. W. Shelley and David Jeffreys, Clerk. It is in session.

WELL.—Carroll Howell this week bored and tubed a well in the new Court House. It is thirty feet deep, six inches diameter, and has twenty-four feet of water. It will be furnished with a Forrester non-freezing pump, of which D. Hays & Bro., of this town, are Agents. A tank of 2000 gallons capacity will be placed on the roof.

WILL PROVE UP.—D. W. Slaw, Clark Eggleston and Dr. Lloyd Goodnow will prove up their homestead claims before the Register and Receiver of the Bodie Land Office on the 10th of September.

ATTACHMENTS.—A large number of suits have been commenced in the Superior Court this week, but as returns have not been made we defer publishing them until next week.

SAM CHUNG'S TRIAL.—The trial of Sam Chung, for the murder of P. Encenos, resulted in a disagreement of the jury—6 for conviction and 6 for acquittal.

TRIAL JURY.—On Monday last the jurymen were discharged, and a venire issued for 150, returnable on Tuesday next, the 24th inst.

ICE CREAM.—George Callahan, will give a fine dinner to-morrow (Sunday) at the Can Can Restaurant, with ice cream dessert.

EQUALIZATION.—The Board has been in session since Tuesday last, equalizing assessments.

LEAVITT'S ADDITION.—Lumber is arriving from Carson for the addition to the Leavitt Hotel.

RAISED.—The Assessment Roll, outside the mines, has been raised $95,000. To-day the mines will increase it to $1,000,000

PRISONERS.—There are ten prisoners in the county jail, and three more are en route from Sonora.

DEPUTY.—Joseph Fitzgerald, of Bridgeport, has been appointed Deputy Sheriff.

RECESS.—On Monday last the Superior Court adjourned until next Tuesday.

PERSONAL.—Judge Wiggin left on Monday last for Carson, for recreation.

WILL PRESIDE.—Judge Briggs will open the Superior Court on Tuesday next.

Two London gentlemen will stake £1,000 that Dr. Tanner cannot fast forty days and nights, they being allowed to watch him. Now, here's a go for the doctor to make $5,000 and save a forty days board bill. Will he accept it? Not much.

The President and Actor.

The writer of this has seen Edwin Forrest walking up Pennsylvania avenue arm and arm with President Buchanan, and from the considerate manner of the nation's chief, who appeared to do most of the talking, a stranger would have inevitably taken the tragedian for the President, and the President himself for some eminently-respectable member of the learned profession. Mr. Buchanan was a great patron of the theatre, and Mr. Forrest was a most savage and uncompromising Democrat, which probably accounted for their strong intimacy. During the war Mr. Forrest's sympathies were so strongly Southern, and so openly expressed, that his friends considered it little short of marvelous that no notice was taken of his many incautious, not to say foolish, remarks. Certain is it that his feelings sometimes carried him beyond the verge of discretion, notably so in the instance which I am about to relate. In 1863 he was playing at Ford's Theatre, Washington, the same building where President Lincoln was assassinated. The bill for the evening was "Richelieu," and one of the stage boxes was occupied by a group of Cabinet officers and other dignitaries of the Government. The presence of these officers seemed to stir him up frightfully, and when the Cardinal bids Francois "Put up the sword, States may be saved without it," Mr. Forrest read it thus; "Put up the sword, States can be saved without it," giving the auxiliary with that tremendous emphasis of which his voice alone was capable, shaking his finger at the box the while, and glaring upon the occupants with the ferocity of a tiger. The audience could not but see to whom the line was directed, although whether any noticed the slight interpolation of the text is a question. Among the actors who were familiar with the play it was much commented upon.—Portlrnd, (Or.) Bee.

IT MUST BE BAD.—The people of San Francisco have another fight on their hands—the adoption or rejection of a new charter for that city. As the Chronicle is about the only paper favoring its adoption, it is safe to say that it would be better for that city if it is defeated. The Chronicle claims that it will do wonders for San Francisco, and that its salvation depend on its adoption. It said the same things in regard to our New Constitution, and now that we have that bantling of the Chronicle as our organic law, where are we?

Ingersoll, alluding to General Hancock's career as a professional soldier, says: "Of course we expect such men to do the fighting when there is fighting to be done. It's their business. Now, it's different with a volunteer! When a man leaves a plow, and kisses his wife and goes out to be shot at for principle, that is believed to be patriotic, and inspires enthusiasm. Then, too, we don't look at Generals as especially typical of patriotism. We never had to draft for Generals, that I remember. We always had plenty."

A thunderstorm came down upon Warm Springs valley, says the Reno Gazette of 16. The air was full of electricity, and at Royce's station everything was snapping. Mrs. Royce was doing some work about her kitchen, and happening to touch the stove received a violent shock which nearly knocked her down. She called out and her husband came in, but could touch nothing without a heavy shock. He called in the hostler, who picked up a stove-lid, but dropped it as quickly, yelling, "Oh! be jabers, it's full of minerality."

A sensation was created in Los Angeles on the 13th by a report brought in by a gentleman from Spadra, that a volcanic eruption had broken out in the mountains near the Temescal tin mine, about forty miles east of that city, and that mud and lava were being thrown up and running down the side of the mountains. Others report having seen dense clouds of smoke over that locality.

THE CARSON AND COLORADO.—Rails and ties for the Carson and Colorado narrow-gauge road will probably begin to arrive at the Mound House in a couple of weeks, when the laying of the track will be commenced. Once a start is made the road will be pushed out to the eastward very rapidly.—Enterprise.

On Tuesday the business portion of the town of Eureka was destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000. The town was burned about one year ago, and many were in debt on account of that fire, but still there is no suffering that will require aid from the outside to mitigate it.

In a recent speech at Staunton, W. Va., Wade Hampton declared that the Democratic party under Hancock's lead was fighting for the same principles that Lee and Jackson fought for, and for which Southern soldiers died.

The new Atlantic Cable Company has been registered with a Portuguese concession for a cable from England to the Azores, and thence to America. A financial contract has been concluded for laying a light cable by this route.

A doctor says that men catch colds through their ankles; but the Chicago Tribune thinks they wouldn't if they looked after their own ankles as anxiously as they look after a pretty girl's.

Judge Sepulveda of Los Angeles, has decided that the law passed by the last Legislature, forbidding the licensing of Chinese, is unconstitutional and void.

Bodie must rouse herself. St. Louis had five murders during the 48 hours ending on the evening of the 17th.

To take bruises out of furniture, wet the part with warm water; double a piece of brown paper five or six times, soak it in the warm water, and lay it on the place; apply on that a warm, but not hot, flat-iron, till the moisture is evaporated. If the bruise be not gone, repeat the process. After two or three applications, the dent will be raised to the surface. If the bruise be a small one, merely soak it with warm water, and hold a redhot iron near the surface, keeping the surface continuously wet, the bruise will soon disappear.

BODIE CHRONICLE.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, AUGUST, 21, 1880.

COLD CABBAGE.—George Abrahams was extravagantly fond of cold cabbage, and, one day, seeing that quite a dishful was left after dinner, asked his wife to save it for his salad at night.

About midnight George came home laboring under a stress of heavy weather. Feeling hungry, and thinking of his favorite cabbage, he asked where it was.

His wife replied: "In the pantry, on the second shelf."

Down he went, found the cabbage, got out the oil, mustard and vinegar, cut up the cabbage, dressed it to the queen's taste, and ate it.

In the morning his wife noticed the plate of cabbage where she had placed it the night before, and, turning to her "dear George," innocently asked him why he did not eat the cabbage.

"I did," he said.

"How did you like it?"

"Oh! not very well; it was tough and stringy."

"But here is the cabbage: where did you find any more?"

"Why, on the second shelf, where you told me."

A quick glance at the shelf by the wife, and then a cry of agony.

"Why, George, you have eaten $20 of lace collars and cuffs that I had put in starch; stringy cabbage, indeed!"

COLORADO COURTING.—They have some queer girls in Colorado. One of them, who resides in Cache la Poudre valley, has been receiving the attention of a young man for a year, but becoming impatient at his failure to bring matters to a crisis, she resolved to ascertain his intentions. When he next called she took him gently by the ear, lead him to a seat, and said: "Bobby, you've been foolin' round this claim for mighty nigh a year, en' hev never yit shot off yer mouth on the marryin' biz. I've cottoned to yer on the square clean through, and hev stood off every other galoot that has tried to chin in, an' now I want yer to come to business or leave the ranch. Ef yer on the marry an' want a pard that'll stick rite ter yer till yer pass in yer checks, I'm your hairpin; but ef that ain't yer game, draw out and give some other feller a show for his pile. Now sing yer song or skip out." He sang.—Exchange.

A young lady in Pittsburg has met with a serious accident. She is a pupil of the Normal School, and has been studying to be a teacher. She was "frizzing her bangs" or "banging her frizzes," with a hot slate pencil, when the pencil slipped under one of her eyelids and so injured the eyeball that it is feared its sight will be destroyed. The sympathy of "frizzers" the world around will be extended to this unfortunate young lady, who by means of a hot slate pencil has become a martyr to personal adornment.

Some whose judgments are impaired by the endless exhibition of forms and developments of life have fallen into the strange superstition that the world has made himself, and that the sources of this power of production and progress must be looked for in the lowest forms of matter.—Horatio Seymour.

The treasurer, who was a good deal of a wag, handed Mr. Forrest a bright new quarter, took the worn piece, and with the words "I wouldn't sell these two shillings for five dollars," slipped it into his pocket. That night the story of Forrest and the smooth quarter were known all over Boston.

A little fellow turning over the leaves of a scrapbook, came across the well-known picture of some chickens just out of their shell. He examined the picture carefully, and then, with a grave, sagacious look, slowly remarked: "They come out 'cos they were afraid of being boiled."

To get into a railroad car and find in it a half-dozen women dressed in bright scarlet cloth mantles is enough to make one's eyes ache. And the eyes ache often in Canada, for the ladies of that country travel in mantles of the color named.

The census man has found a boy in Troup county, Georgia, who is only twelve years of age, but is married to a large, fine-looking buxom woman, and they are living peacably and happily out on a farm. The boy is a very thrifty young man.

A medical man asks: "Does position affect sleep?" It does, particularly if the man is holding the position of a night watchman. He is liable to be disturbed by the police.—Boston Courier.

"Counterfeiting," remarks the Danbury News, "has finally got down to where it really concerns us. Bogus ten-cent pieces are afloat."

A tall man having rallied his friend on the shortness of his legs, the friend replied: "My legs reach the ground, what more can yoursdo?"

That was a good prayer of the old deacon: "Lord, make us willing to run on little errands, for thee."

A good conversationalist may make himself heard at a feast, but the small boy takes the cake.

We don't wish to alarm the American people, and we don't want to create a panic in commercial circles, but we would like to say, from a profound conviction of eternal truth and imperative necessity, that "now is the time to make up clubs."—Hawkeye.
